Education vs. Ignorance.

Much has already been said, written and published on the subject of education and yet, I think, too much cannot be said along this line. Any country's prosperity depends upon the intelligence of its citizens, but I do not mean to say that it is impossible for an ignorant person to be prosperous, yet I do say that no uneducated person can fully enjoy life. To the uneducated there is no melody in the music of birds, no beauty in blooming flowers, no rays of sunshine to shake out the gloomy places along life's pathway. Even the stability of a republican form of government, like ours purports to be, cannot long endure where ignorance predominates. The nation's glory depends upon brain and not muscle, and is the experience of those who have traveled far along the road of finance that brain work yields more profitable returns than physical work. The two together, however, when working in harmony invariably bring better and more substantial results. The student of history after long and careful research tells us that those who have carved their names highest on fame's eternal banner were men who burned the oil of midnight and who took particular pains in mental study. If the prosperity of our county is to continue, if we are to continue to exceed and excel those of our sister counties, if we are to maintain our prestige in every way, as heretofore, we must continue to pound away at our mental work. We cannot lay too much stress upon it. It is our star of hope. I am glad that we have as valuable an auxiliary as the Mountain Eagle to visit our homes, pouring into them each week its fresh fountains of hope and encouragement. The intelligent already know and recognize its worth and the careless and indolent will learn it in time, perhaps after it is too late.

Faithfully Yours,
HARRISON BOOGES.

To Caleb Powers

Your advertisement to the effect that I have procured henchmen to write letters to my colleagues to get letters from them to publish, is a lie concocted to cover up the unusually favorable and unanimously good reports of my record which have been brought out by you and your friends in your attempt to find something to use against me. I will pay $100 reward and quit the race if you will show one such case as you charge. Will you quit if your advertisement is false? D.C. Edwards.

Money you blow in quits working for you.

The promising young man is nearly always in debt.

No man has a monopoly on wisdom—even the fool has some.

Food for gossip isn't the kind for filling an empty stomach.

The wife of a handsome man is never too busy to watch him.

You've got a kick coming if you deserve the mean things said about you.

If a pair of shoes are too small they may fit a woman, but if too large she has a fit.

A young man who speaks from experience says it is easier to keep company with a girl than it is to keep a wife.

The latch key was invented by the devil.

Even if you take time by the forelock it will be a wig and pull off.

It doesn't take a fire department to put out a burning love affair.

The only thing that keeps forever without cold storage is scandal.

The more evil there is in this world the less people want to remove to the next one.

EDITORIAL.

Would you believe it? Three years ago the EAGLE shied its timid face from under its feeble wings, cast its beauteous eyes upward and through doubt and fear slowly raised its humble pinions and began to buffet the waves of local journalism. It was weak in body but brave in heart and name. High upon the rugged precipice stood EXCELSIOR. Between it and that motto lay dark and dismal vales, murky gulfs and turbid waters, on every hand lay the wrecks, ambitions, of others, in shape and form just like itself. It cast its eye about. It knew "Faint heart never won fair damsel." It knew that when once it set sail there could be but one of two results. Either it would sink in the dissolution among the wrecks of those who had perished on the way or it would fasten its talons around its motto high upon the heights. Dear reader, to make a long story short, three years ago this week this paper of which we speak made its first voyage into the homes of our people. This week completes its one hundred and fifty-sixth trip. Each week it has spread its wings and flew forth on its mission of peace and happiness for our people. Many times it has carried that which it did not like, but it discharged its burden and flew back believing it would do better next time. It knows it has made its mistakes, but what man or beast or bird has not? In the beginning it was named to perpetuate the noble bird of our country—THE AMERICAN EAGLE. Its intended mission was just as great and it expected to pass through exigencies just as appalling. Since the foundations of this government were laid and since the American eagle has been its emblem the country has passed through some awful times. It saw the country over which it spreads its great wings thrown into sectional war, and rent from center to circumference. It stood with palpitating heart over the battlefields of Cold Harbor, Antietam, the Wilderness and a hundred others. When the flow of blood ceased it gathered the remnants of both armies together, tucked them all under its brave wings and called them all her own. What a bird, and what a spirit to imitate!

For three years the people of Letcher county and a goodly portion of the mountains, including a wide stretch in Old Virginia and other sections, have stood valiantly by the Eagle. It has stood by them, and while it has not done much it has certain ly done what it could for its fel lowmen. What it has done was accomplished by the people standing by it and the more they stand by it the greater strength it gathers and the abler it becomes to discharge its rapidly growing responsibilities. With the first issue three years ago about 500 of our citizens enlisted with us. For three years they have traveled along with it. Will you do so again? Come on board again, gentlemen, and let's laugh and cry together, let's live and die together and thus perpetuate for ourselves and our children these mountains—the birthplace of the best blood that ever flowed in human veins. If you really cannot pay in advance be honest with us and pay just as soon as you can.

Just after this issue is off the press and mailed we will prepare our books for the next year. The too slow pay man or the man who has not paid at all or who owes a cent on his last year's subscription will be left off. If you don't get next week's paper don't blame us. We have done all the "dunning" through the paper that we propose to do just now. There are enough of those who are quick and sure pay to make the Eagle "go gallagher" and we don't propose to fool with those that we have to "dog after" in order to get that that we have earned many times over. In making out our list every man who has paid for three years and apparently paid willingly and who does not order us otherwise will be put on for another year. Those who are as much as six months behind must be left off, so the postlaw says. The "too slow for anything" subscriber has already handicapped the Eagle and we can't afford to be thus caught in the future.

With the above explanations and without further ado about it, after this issue we start on an

NOTICE!

To The Tax-payers of Letcher County: Of course you know your taxes for 1910 are now and have been due for some time. Suppose you have the money on hand to pay them and fail to pay before September 1st, won't you have to list that money to the assessor and even pay taxes on it next year? That would certainly be a bad business proposition. Better pay them right now while you are thinking about it. Manage to pay them and get that awful long frown from off your face.

Very Truly,
Louis Cook, Sheriff.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indecent questioning and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S GREAT FAMILY DOCTOR BOOK, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Send free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 25 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

About the R. R. Surveyors

Dear readers, we want a railroad in this country. We need one and if we ever get it it will be built by those who have millions to spend. Courtesy and kindness are very little things, almost costless, and when we get an opportunity to show either of these qualities let's do so. Mr. Dole, manager of the railroad surveying crew, is a gentleman, Mr. Stone is a gentleman, and the rest whose names we do not know have all the qualities of gentlemen and are entitled to our respect. Not one of them will do you a financial injury and in the future may do us good.

If your liver is sluggish and out of tone, and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight before retiring and you will feel all right in the morning. Sold by all dealers.

John Adams	1	25
Ed Polly	13	79 $\frac{1}{2}$
C.C. Crawford	6 $\frac{1}{2}$	103

To Caleb Powers

In your advertisements carried in some of the newspapers of the district, you state that Ollie M. James, a Democratic Congressman from this State, assailed the good name of the mountain people, especially the people of the Eleventh district, calling us red-handed murderers, &c., &c., and that Congressman D.C. Edwards sat there on the floor of the house, heard the good name of the people of this district assailed and never opened his mouth to defend them. I am also informed that you make this statement in your speeches. Now, sir, I want to inform you that this statement is a lie out of the whole cloth, and I will pay you $100 and quit the race if you will show it in the Congressional Record. If you cannot produce the record you certainly will apologize to the good people of the district and to the newspapers you have imposed upon and withdrawn from the race.

D. C. Edwards.

On Tour of United States

Terry Elmendorf, said to be related to one Dwight Elmendorf, a celebrated lecturer, and Royce Forbush, a highly connected and brilliant young man, arrived in town last Saturday evening on a 20,000 miles pedestrian journey in the United States. They will visit every state and state capital in the Union, a very original idea with these young men. Every state they pass through means a letter from the Governor or other high officials they having already secured a number of these highly important missives. They have already carefully and systematically tramped the states of New York, Md., Penn., W. Va., and Ohio, having entered Kentucky at Ashland about two weeks ago. They left here going in the direction of Knott county and will walk into Frankfort soon. Both Elmendorf and Forbush are intelligent and know how to make friends wherever they go. They left the office of Mayor Gaynor in New York City on the 23d of last May and have already traveled more than 1,400 miles. They started from New York moneyless and are in the same condition yet, one of the conditions being that they are to make the entire trip without money. When through their travels they will write a wonderful book describing things as they appear to them.

Instantly Killed

Tuesday morning James Combs a married man aged about forty and who recently located on Rose Branch below town while clearing ground for W.E. Hammons above town was suddenly killed by a falling limb. Combs and his son who is nearly grown cut down a tree and were watching it fall when a large dead limb which had been lodged in another tree let loose and without notice dashed down striking the man on the head dashing out his brains. The boy escaped by only a few feet.

After The Grippe

"I am much pleased, to be able, to write and thank you for what Cardui has done for me," writes Mrs. Sarah J. Gilliland, of Siler City, N. C.

"Last February, I had the Grippe, which left me in bad shape. Before that, I had been bothered with female trouble, for ten years, and nothing seemed to cure it.

"At last, I began to take Cardui. I have taken only three bottles, but it has done me more good than all the doctors or than any other medicine I ever took."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

For the after-effects of any serious illness, like the Grip, Cardui is the best tonic you can use.

It builds strength, steadies the nerves, improves the appetite, regulates irregularities and helps bring back the natural glow of health.

Cardui is your best friend, if you only knew it.

Think of the thousands of ladies whom Cardui has helped! What could possibly prevent it from helping you?

Remember you cannot get the benefit of the Cardui ingredients in any other medicine, for they are not for sale in any drug store except in the Cardui bottle. Try Cardui.

POINTED SKULLS.

Admired by Some Tribes, Which Sore Them by Head Binding.

The egg shaped heads of some of the natives of Malekula, in the Hebrides, were once thought to be naturally conical. For that reason scientific men decided that the Malekulans were in the lowest rung of the human ladder.

Later it was found that the conical heads were produced as the Chinese women distorted their feet by binding them in infancy. The egg shaped head is still fashionable in Malekula, where some extraordinary results are achieved.

"A conical head," says a writer in the National Geographic Magazine, "retreats from the forehead in such a manner that one is amazed to know the owner of this remarkable profile preserves his or her proper senses, such as they are. I could not hear, however, that the custom was supposed to affect the intellect in any way."

"The conical shape is produced by winding strong sinnet cord spirally about the heads of young babies and tightening the coils from time to time. A piece of plaited tape is first put on the head and the cord is coiled over this, so as to give it a good purchase. The crown of the head is left to develop in the upward and backward fashion that is so much admired."

"One fears the poor babies suffer very much from the process. The child I saw was fretful and crying and looked as if it were constantly in pain. But the mother, forgetting for the moment her fear of the strange white woman, showed it to me quite proudly, pointing out the cords with a smile."

"She had a normally shaped head herself, and it seemed that she had suffered by her parents' neglect of this important matter, for she was married to a man who was of no particular account. A young girl who was standing beside her had evidently had a more careful mother, for her head was almost sugar loaf shaped. It is interesting to know that this well brought up young woman had married a chief."

Poetry, Painting and Furniture.

Rossetti insisted on everybody painting. Books, he said, were "no use to a painter except to prop up models upon in difficult positions, and then they might be very useful."

"If any man has any poetry in him," was another saying of Rossetti's, "he should paint, for it has all been said and written, and they have scarcely begun to paint it."

"A saying, by the way, which may be found also in the third volume of "Modern Painters."

Morris obeyed the master and took to painting.

Even when Morris took to making furniture that craft was at first regarded under Rossetti's influence as merely a means of providing spaces for pictorial decoration.

Morris built some enormous chairs, "such as Barbarossa might have sat in," said Rossetti, who proceeded to paint their backs with subjects from Morris' poems.

To Caleb Powers

Caleb Powers admits that he had money which had been donated to him out on interest in 1905. The books of the Defense Fund Committee at Louisville show that they paid the expenses of the only trial he ever had after 1903. Will Caleb tell what he has done with the people's money?

And I have witnessed the truth of the last two lines very many times, notably on three separate occasions, on which, being up the river for a day's punting, when a fine day would have been a godsend to me, it has rained persistently during the whole afternoon, the rain beginning between 10 and 11 o'clock and ceasing within a very few minutes of 7. Thus I have had the proverb indelibly stamped on my mind.—London Notes and Queries.

Well Said.

An excellent as well as witty report, which might be applicable to some politicians even in these enlightened days, is accredited to the celebrated Richard Brinsley Sheridan. When his son, Thomas Sheridan, was candidate for the representation of a Cornish borough he told his father that if he secured the office he had a mind to place a label on his forehead with the words "To Let" printed on it and side with the party which made the best offer.

"Very well, Tom," replied his father dryly, "but if you do that don't forget to add the word 'Unfurnished.'

Caleb Powers grows frantic in his advertisements and speeches because he says the Democrats are supporting Edwards, yet he boasts that 50,000 of them signed his petition for pardon. Do you not know, Mr. Powers, that no Republican was ever elected to a state office in Kentucky without Democratic votes? Did not the Democrat help elect Bradley and his ticket in '95? Did they not help elect Taylor and his ticket in '99? Did they not help elect Wilson and his ticket in 1907?

Did Bradley have been elected to the United States Senate without Democratic votes? Do you charge that these men are corrupt or not good Republicans because they received some Democratic support?

EDWARDS IN KNOX

(CONTRIBUTED.)

Mr. Edwards has made a tour through Knox county and read his letters to those who gathered to hear him discuss needed legislation. His advance agent, M.G. Hignite went over the county in advance of his chief to drum up a crowd. Hignite is better known in Knox than elsewhere in the district, and at Artemus, a place of 500 or 600 people, Hignite had worked up a crowd of 9 to hear Edwards, 8 of whom were for Powers. At Callahans he got 22 voters out, 17 for Powers and 5 for Edwards. At Beech Springs there were 10 Republicans, and at Little Brush Creek 18, 14 of whom were for Powers.

While Edwards was in the home county of Mr. Powers, Mr. Powers was in the home county of Mr. Edwards and we give below a summary of his tour in Laurel and leave it to you to draw your own conclusions as to the relative strength of these men in the home counties of the candidates:

"Laurel Co. for Powers"

Caleb Powers completed his tour of the county Tuesday at Felts schoolhouse. He has been given such an ovation wherever he has spoken as has seldom been accorded any candidate. Powers' clubs were formed at various places where he spoke, for instance one at Oakley of 90 members, one at McWhorter of 91 members, one at Creech schoolhouse in McWhorter precinct of 45 members, one at Bush of 131 members, one at Camp Ground of 103 members, one at Lily of 87 members, one at Felts schoolhouse in Lily precinct of 42 members, one at Keay in Edwards' old home precinct of 76 members, and others.

The total enrollment in the Powers Clubs formed at Powers' speakings was more than 900 voters, nearly 1,000 now enrolled in the Powers Clubs. No speaker were made and no clubs formed in six precincts of the county some of which are large Republican precincts and Powers strongholds. As proof that all Powers supporters did not join clubs at the speakings, after forming a club of 45 at Creech schoolhouse, the Powers men formed a line and counted 61 voters, said to be every Republican voter on the ground.

"Powers will carry the county overwhelmingly."

[CONTRIBUTED] One by One

the predictions of Edwards' henchmen are a glimmering. They said for instance when Powers was making speeches and before Edwards got home from Congress that when Edwards got home and got in the harness that things would change 'round and that Powers' little boom would burst into bubbles. False prophets they have proven themselves to be. Tremendous crowds of enthusiastic people still flock to hear Caleb Powers, while Edwards' crowds are small and indifferent, unless Democratic. At Bad Creek in Leslie county, no one turned out to hear Edwards speak. Not a soul honored him with his presence at Calloway in Bell county; three Democrats were all that graced the occasion at Marrowbone in Leslie county. Only 12 voters heard Edwards at the county seat of Jackson Co. (Jim Moore's county) while only 9 turned out to hear Edwards at Artemus, in Knox county (Powers' county) Powers was addressing big crowds in Edwards' county, and as proof of this, a Powers Republican Club of 90 members was formed at Powers' speaking place at Cross Roads. The other day a Powers club of 91 at McWhorter, a club of 87 at Lily, a club of 131 voters at Bush and 103 at Camp Ground and all these in the home county of D.C. Edwards.

(CONTRIBUTED) D. C. Edwards

in trying to explain why the Democrats were supporting him in his race against Caleb Powers, said in a speech the other day, "Do you know that there never was a Republican State ticket elected without the aid of Democratic votes? Governor Bradley could never have been elected Governor. Governor Willson could never have been elected Governor, nor could Bradley have been elected to the United States Senate without the aid of Democratic votes." Don, you don't seem to understand that this is a Republican primary that you are running in. Although the State Central Committee "padded" you across the caboose of your trou-ers and told you that this was a Republican primary and that no Democrat could vote in same, you still seem to have Democratic wheels in your head. We suppose you know that the Democrats did not help to nominate either Governor Bradley or Gov. Willson. After they were nominated both received some Democratic support, but the Democrats did not vote or have anything to do in making the nomination. Such a thing has never been heard of in Congressional or State races, Don, until you favored them voting in this Republican primary. You favored their voting and we can prove it on you. The Democrats always want to see the weakest Republican nominated. Don, the Democrats want you nominated; you are the weakest Republican.

(CONTRIBUTED) D. C. Edwards Says

that Caleb Powers should be defeated for Congress because Powers asked one of Edwards' Federal office holders, M.G. Hignite, to give up his position to Powers' brother in law, Mr. Green. That would be an awful crime, wouldn't it, to disturb one of Edwards' Federal office holders in his position? Powers had made his campaign, spent his money and had been elected Superintendent of Schools for Knox county. Powers turned over the fruits of victory, the victory and the office to Mr. Hignite. Powers later helped to re-elect him, and then endorsed him and helped to get him appointed to the position he now holds—Deputy Collector. When Powers got into trouble he need-

The Stark Year Book for 1910

is ready to mail. It will be sent to any person interested in fruit growing on receipt of 7 cents to cover postage. The Stark Year Book for 1910 represents an entirely new idea in numismatist's literature—it is a work of art as well as a catalogue of Stark Nurseries, representing 32 full-page illustrations of fruits and flowers, especially selected for color, and exactly reproducing nature.

Stark Nurseries, the people that have revolutionized orchard planting and established a new standard of apple varieties (selling at $10.00 per bushel box this year); Stark King David, another apple of wondrous quality and merit; Stark King Philip, a hardy black grape of California grape quality, and dozens of the very best things in the horticultural world are fully described, illustrated, and priced.

To any one planting new trees or many of fruits or ornamentals, this book is of incalculable value—a horticultural text-book—a guide to proper selection.

Send 7 cents in postage and the year book will be sent to you—no money is required—this is the first choice of any country's best stereotyped catalogues. The success of the year book is dependent on the kind and quality of trees planted. Stark varieties are the best of the best. Our record of 45 years of successful selling is a positive guarantee of true quality.

Before you decide to buy, send 7 cents for the Stark Year Book—do it today before the edition is exhausted.
